EVERY LITTLE HELPS.

—:o:—

Suppose a little twinkling star,
Away in yonder sky,
Should say, "What light can reach so far
From such a star as I?
Not many rays of mine so far
As yonder earth can fall;
The others so much brighter are,
I will not shine at all.

Suppose a bright green leaf, that grows
Upon the rose-bush near,
Should say, "Because I'm not a rose,
I will not linger here;"
Or that a dew-drop, fresh and bright,
Upon that fragrant flower,
Should say, "I'll vanish out of sight,
Because I'm not a shower."

Suppose a little child should say,
"Because I'm not a man,
I will not try, in word or play,
To do what good I can."
Dear child, each star some light can give,
Though gleaming faintly there;
Each rose-leaf helps the plant to live;
Each dew-drop keeps it fair.

And our good Father who's in Heaven,
And doth all creatures view,
To every little child has given
Some needful work to do.
Kind deeds toward those with whom you [live,
Kind words and actions right
Shall, 'midst the world's deep darkness, give
A precious little light.

A Wonderful Race.

If there is a civilization to whose merits we are more generally and thoroughly unjust than to those of any other, it is the Chinese. If there is a historical phenomenon whose wonderful and anomalous character fails to attract a due share of our attention and study, it is the persistency of Chinese national life. The present Emperor of the Flowery Land is the lineal successor of an almost endless line of sovereigns, running back into times deemed pre-historic by nearly every other race; and he is charged with administering institutions which grew up on the very ground he occupies—originated, developed, and handed down by the same people that now lives under them. When not a single Germanic tribe had learned to read and write, China had entered upon her modern era. When petty Roman chiefs, whose very existence is doubted by the historical criticism of our day, were brawling in an obscure Italian village, the representative man of China was casting in a form which should endure forever the gradually elaborated wisdom of numberless generations of his ancestors. When the Greeks, happily settled near to the homes of older systems of culture, were only preparing the way for that glorious career on which they later entered, the Chinese state had already become, in the main, what it is now. When the Hebrews were wearily wandering through the deserts in search of their promised land, the Yellow River of China had been shut in, and its meadows reclaimed from devastation by the same public works which still stand, maintained by the same race, for the same purpose. Through how many hands has the inestimable gift of culture passed on its way to us! How have its chief possessors, one after another, been swept away—worn out, as it were, by their efforts to sustain and advance it! How wonderful, then, is the calm continuance of the Chinese nation and its institutions!

It is easy for us to sneer at Chinese civilization, and cast contempt upon its products; but it is so immeasurably superior to anything that our own ancestors had attained but a few centuries ago, that we, who have climbed to our present height upon the shoulders of men alien to our race, would do well to be a little modest. A people who taught the world to make silk and porcelain, who invented the compass, gunpowder, and the art of printing; who have produced a literature exceeded in value and interest only by those of a very few other races, the acknowledged leaders in human history—such a people is too secure in its position to be affected by the taunts of such upstarts as we are. Undoubtedly we are right in believing that our culture contains far higher elements than theirs, and is upborne by a more energetic and progressive capacity; there are radical deficiencies and incongruities in Chinese character that justify the feeling of distaste with which we contemplate it; but this neither excuses our wholesale depreciation and disregard, nor takes away the interest of the historical problem set before us.

MAN AND WIFE.—We have sometimes heard ministers, in closing a marriage ceremony, say: "I pronounce you man and wife." In an account of a grand matrimonial affair in Brooklyn, a few days ago, the papers used the same expression, "they were made man and wife." We never hear the announcement, or see it in print either, but we are reminded of a very just criticism made upon it in our hearing twenty years ago, by a certain Theological Professor, when he came across it in a work of Dr. Smith, of Charleston. When he read it he stopped and exclaimed: "Just as though the man was not a man before he married him. Why not say husband and wife? these are co-relative terms—man and wife are not." This is a hint for preachers. Let 'Squires follow their own course.—Exchange.

The above reminds us of a too recent practice of registering names at hotels. "Mr. —— and lady," as if the gent. was ashamed to acknowledge the lady as his wife—or for some other reason.

We also recollect of an acquaintance once who had but lately been married, introducing his wife as my woman.

"I'll Take What Father Takes."

"What will you take to drink?" asked the waiter of a young lad who, for the first time, accompanied his father to a public dinner. Uncertain what to say, and feeling sure that he could not be wrong if he followed his father's example, he replied, "I'll take what father takes."

The answer reached his father's ear, and instantly the full responsibility of his position flashed upon him. If he said, "I'll take ale," as he had always said before, his son would take it also, and then? And the father shuddered, as the history of several young men who, once promising as his own bright lad, had been ruined by drink, started up in solemn warning before him.—Should his hopes also be blasted and that open faced noble lad become a burden and curse, as they had become? But for strong drink, they would have been active, earnest, prosperous men; and if it could work such ruin upon them, was his own lad safe? Quicker than lightning these thoughts passed through his mind, and in a moment the decision was made. "If the boy falls, he shall not have me to blame;" and then in tones tremulous with emotion to the astonishment of those who knew him, he said, "Waiter, I'll take water;" and from that day to this, strong drink has been banished from that man's table and from that man's home.

That young lad, in this brief utterance, was really the representative of the generation to which he belongs.—God has so decreed it, that a father is the highest authority in the world to his child. Who does not know that "My father said so" is the end of all controversy with the little ones around us? Who does not see the parent's tones, and gait, and manners reproduced continually in the children, whose nature is now "soft as wax to receive an impression, and rigid as marble to retain it;" and who watch with a quick and imitating eye those who, to them, are God's vicegerents?

Would that we could impress upon the fathers and mothers of this country the solemn fact, that the future character of the children is being formed by them. That if they are trained up in the way they should go, when they are old they will not depart from it. But if they become vain, sensual, and degraded, the seeds will have been deposited and the bias given in the early morning of their lives. If we teach them that strong drink is a good creature of God, they will believe us; and when depending upon our judgment and truth, they shall have taken it, and it shall have shown itself to be the devil's master piece, and have bitten, and crushed, and dragged them down to ruin, we may weep and pray as we please—the blame will be our own, and we must not accuse God, or cast reflection upon the gospel. We shall have sown to the flesh, and of the flesh have reaped corruption. God will have visited the sins of the fathers upon the children. They only "took what their fathers took." If, on the other hand, we banish the fiend when their young and trusting hearts are most open to our teaching, we tell them that wine is a mocker, that strong drink is raging, and warn them that no serpent is so dangerous, no adders so much to be dreaded, we shall be co-workers with all-merciful and wise God who, to preserve them from taking it, has sent them into the world with a loathing of its very taste. Our children will believe us. They will grow up with their natural instinct fortified by our instruction and example. They will be preserved from the poisonous influence of the destroyer.—There will be a bridgeless gulf between them and the companions who are most likely to lead them into the ways of sin. They will be preserved from habits of extravagance and waste.—They will have no companions but those who walk in the ways of God; no employment for their spare time but that which is elevating and purifying, and when we pass to our reward, they will rise up and call us blessed, for they "took what their fathers took."

THE SOCIAL HORROR.—An untidy woman! Little soap and much perfume. Plenty of jewelry and a lack of strings and buttons. Silks and laces and tattered under clothes. Diamond rings and soiled collar. Feather and flowers, and battered cap frill. Silk stockings and shabby boots. Who has not seen her? If you are a person of courage, enter her dressing room. Make your way through mismated slippers, tippets, belt ribbons, hair pins, pictorials, magazines, fashion prints, and unpaid bills, and look vainly round for a chair that is sufficiently free from dust to sit down upon. Look at the dingy muslin window curtins, the questionable bed quilt and pillow cases, the unfreshness of everything your eye falls upon. Open the closet door, and see the piles of dresses, all wanting "the stitch in time," heaped pellmell upon their pegs; see the bandboxes without covers, and all the horrible paraphernalia of a lazy, inefficient, vacant, idealess female monstrosity, who will, of course, be chosen out of a bevy of good, practical, common sense girls, by some man who prides himself on "his knowledge of women," as his "help meet for life!" I use the word "monstrosity" advisedly; for even in the cell of a prison I have seen wretched females trying, with woman's beautiful instinct, to brighten and beautify the bare walls with some rude colored print. Thank Heaven, the untidy woman is the exception, not the rule. Would we could say the same of the untidy man.—Ledger.

Preservation and Cultivation of Fish.

We copy from the New York "Weekly" the following. It shows the interest taken by the New England States on this important matter. The Susquehanna and its tributaries can furnish more of the finny tribe than all the streams of New England combined, yet our people leave their streams year after year to be pirated by fish baskets, thereby rendering nugatory the utmost endeavors of those who are trying to bring back this delicious luxury to our doors. It is to be hoped that in the coming year all such obstructions shall be put an end to.

A society has been formed at Greenfield, Ms., to prevent the extermination of trout in the neighboring streams. Last week a meeting was held at Boston under the auspices of the Board of Fish Commissioners to consider the subject of the restoration and propagation of fish in the rivers from which they have been excluded by dams. Hon. Harry Jewell, Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, presided. Prof. Agassiz stated that the subject was one whose importance could not be over-estimated. It was a matter affecting coming generations, and one which should occupy the attention of our statesmen.

"His words, he said, might seem extravagant, but what is now advocated by the Fish Commissions stands in the same relation as the first attempts stood to domesticate bulls and raise cattle. How could the population of this continent go on if we had no artificial production of food? Was it ever considered, he asked, that the whole population of this country, without exception, are daily fed by substances all of which are raised artificially? We live upon beef or fowl, and upon vegetables and fruit, no one kind of which is indigenous to this continent. All were brought from the old world to be raised artificially here, and more than that, all have died out in their wild state. What is now proposed by the commissioners is to add one kind of this supply of food for our benefit, that man may feed on a greater variety. Here he said he touched upon a point which was equally important. It is a variety of food taken in daily to build up the human frame, to cultivate the brain, and develope the faculties, which is advancing civilization. The more the variety of food and better adapted to these purposes, the higher our civilization."

He further asserted that the cultivation of fish could and should be made as profitable as cattle, fruit, or wheat raising, or any other "branch of agriculture." The "time will come when every man who has water on his ground will raise fish for his own table, as he now raises fruit." The general and State governments should take hold of this subject, and give it all the encouragement and assistance required. The professor also argued that sanitary reasons should impel us to the general cultivation of fish.

"If there is one thing of which the American people have a right to complain, it is of the uniformity of their diet. Men are most healthy and more enduring in proportion as they vary their diet and take proper time to eat, to chew their food. No creature in the universe requires such a variety of food as man. The fish enters largely into the requisites of the system. It is a kind of food which refreshes the system, especially after intellectual fatigue. There is no other article of food that supplies the waste of the head so thoroughly as fish diet, and the evidence of it is in the fact that all the inhabitants of the sea-shore the world over, are the brighter population of the country. Fish contain phosphorus to a large extent, a chemical element which the brain requires for growth and health. He would not say that an exclusive use of fish would make a blockhead a wise man, but that the brain should not be wanting in one of its essential elements."

Col. Theodore Lyman, of the New England Commissioners of River Fisheries, gave an account of the various kinds of fish which once inhabited the inland streams, and explained how they could be restored. He recommended the introduction of black bass, and exhibited the model of the "Foster fishway" to enable fish to pass over river dams at the season of the year when they were formerly accustomed to ascend from the sea in order to deposit their spawn. Col. Lyman also exhibited a model of the plan pursued by Seth Green, of Mumford, New York, for restocking fish. * * * He (Mr. G.) last year turned over fifty millions of shad into the Connecticut River, beside realizing $10,000 from the sale of fish and spawn. * * * Boston has set an example in this matter which should be followed all over the country. The fish have in late years been rapidly disappearing from our streams before the encroachments of civilization, and the mill-dams and fatal tan-bark threaten to ere long deprive us altogether of the diet which Prof. Agassiz assures us is so requisite for the growth and health of the brain." Judging from the success which has attended Mr. Green's endeavors, parties in this State could raise fish with great profit for the New York market. We hear that an interprise of this kind is soon to be started in New Jersey.

☞A very learned man has said, the three hardest words in the English language to pronunce are, "I was mistaken." And when Frederick the Great wrote his letter to the Senate, "I have just lost a great battle, and it was entirely my own fault," Goldsmith says: "This confession displayed more greatness than all his victories."

Amusements.

The Rev. Marvin R. Vincent, of the First Presbyterian Church in Troy, has published four discourses upon the value of amusement as a force in Christian training, which ought to have a wider circulation than they are likely to obtain in their present form. The author takes up the cause of cheerful Christianity, and answers the arguments of those who seek to find something wicked in many of the innocent and healthful games of the day.

It is held to be innocent for boys to play marbles, but sinful to play dominoes; it is sinful to play billiards, but highly graceful and innocent to play croquet. Mr. Vincent fails to see the ethical distinctions here expressed; he finds it difficult to distinguish between the wickedness of balls of iron and the good of balls of wood; between mallets and cues, and between green baize and green grass. A Christian household must not sit down to a game of whist, according to some authorities, but they can spend a pious evening over Dr. Busby; a game involving a good deal of healthy mental exertion is condemned, while the silly, profitless Busby cards are admitted. Mr. Vincent writes:

"Youth must not dance, but they may march to music in company, and go through callisthenic exercises involving a good deal more motion than dancing. But if people may march to music and be guiltless, it is very hard to see how skipping to music converts the exercise into sin. It is said that the associations make the difference; but the advocate of this theory is shut up to proving that the associations are inseparable from the amusement. Now I ask, in the name of common sense, why not devote a little Christian care to separating from its abuses, and regulating in its conduct, an exercise which improves the bearing of our youth, tends to relieve their awkwardness in society, and gives them innocent exhilaration? When our Young Men's Christian Association, of Troy, furnished their new room, they did so on the principle that prayer meetings and religious periodicals, though important in their place, would not of themselves suffice to attract young men from without. They had tried the experiment in their forlorn rooms, under a machine shop in an out-of-the way place, furnished as a miniature chapel, and a very seedy one at that; and the result was that about six months ago the association was in a fair way to die and make no sign.—Young men would not go to the dismal hole to spend an evening when more attractive places abounded in the city; and I would not if I had been in their place. But the association got a new lease of life. It engaged large, airy, pleasant rooms, in a central position. It kept its prayer meeting room neatly and appropriately furnished, but it added a large social parlor, a fine piano invitingly open, the best current periodicals, secular and religious, upon the tables, and games of checkers, chess and dominoes distributed about the room. The young men came in crowds. They were thrown at once into contact with the Christian youth of every church in the city, with the city pastors, with committees specially appointed by the churches to take strangers in charge, with good music, religious literature and innocent amusement."

We learn from authentic sources that the rooms of the Troy Association became so popular that the keepers of amusement of a refined character uttered loud complaints, attempted to bring about a schism in the ranks by spreading abroad false reports. But the cheerful rooms of the young men prevailed, and great good is daily accomplished.

Mr. Vincent makes some admirable hits at the fallacy in the arguments of those who would shut out all amusements. He says that some people exclaim: "Think of Paul dancing, or Peter playing billiards! Do you think we shall have checker boards in heaven?" This, he says, is no argument—it is sheer nonsense, and most unworthy trifling over a serious subject.—"Think of Paul dancing!" Well, think of him! Think of Paul wearing a swallow-tailed coat with brass buttons! Think of Peter skating, cutting figures of eight; and performing "outer edge backwards." Think of John in a white cravat, or of Bartholomew putting up Seidlitz powders, or of Timothy running with a fire engine! How would they have looked? "Would you play chess on your death-bed?" Probably not, my friend. Neither would I put on my boots, or do a great many innocent things, at such a time.—N. Y. Evc. Post.

CREAKING SHOES.—Vulcan, it is said, being jealous of Venus, made creaking shoes for her, so that he might hear her whenever she stirred. It is a pity that there should be any classical authority for the crepitus crepidæ. In the street, very often in the concert room, and not unfrequently in the church aisle, the creaking and squeaking of the people's leather shoes goes far to prove they have no genuine music in their spiritual souls. The effect arises from dryness of the leather in part, but correctly speaking, the creaking depends upon the sudden compression of the air contained between two surfaces of leather; just as the sound is produced by the clapping of hands by the air thus set in vibration. Shoes with thin soles, it is said, never creak, and by interposing a piece of oil silk between the two soles, the contact of their surface may be so insured as to obviate the sound.

☞General Hancock at his own request has been relieved of his command at New Orleans. General Buchanan takes his place.

THE New Jersey House passed the bill withdrawing the consent of New Jersey to the ratification of the 14th article of the Constitution over the veto of the Governor.

☞"We have never deserted our party or refused our support to its candidates."—Editors of the Journal & American.

Je-ru-sa-lem! Where do you expect to go to?

☞The evidence in the contested election case, Robinson vs. Shugart, has been closed on both sides, and the arguments of counsel commenced at three o'clock on Monday afternoon. The case will be disposed of the last of the week.

☞The general apropriation bill was defeated in the Senate on last Friday. This may delay the final adjournment of the Legislature to the end of April. Money was appropriated without regard to where it was to come from. When the total expenses of the present session is made public, it will be seen that extravagance is still master of the situation.

JUST THINK OF IT.—We have received a copy of the Oxford, (Miss.) Falcon, a Democratic paper, in which we find the following item:

"KU KLUX KLAN.—We hear it whispered on the streets that this mysterious organization has made its appearance in our midst. Who the members are and their designs no one can tell. It is the popular impression that they are the spirits of our heroes who fell upon the battle-fields in the late war, and that they are now revisiting the earth for the purpose of aiding us in the great struggle now impending."

The Ku Klux Klan is said to be the name of a secret rebel organization in Tennessee, which has taken the place of the "Knights of the Golden Circle."

THE DISTRICT SYSTEM.—At a meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of Allegheny County, held in Pittsburg on Tuesday last, the following resolution was offered:

Resolved, That we heartily denounce the recent attempt of the Philadelphia Convention to arrogate to itself the power of choosing District Congressional delegates to the National Convention at Chicago, as also the power of bindingly instructing all the delegates throughout the State to vote as a unit, as a gross, arbitrary abuse of power on the part of the majority of the Convention.

The resolution gave rise to considerable discussion and opposition, and several amendments and motions were offered, but it was finally adopted, several members, however, voting in the negative.

☞The Free Railroad Law has passed both branches of the Legislature and is now in the hands of the Governor. It authorizes any number of persons, not less than nine, to form a company for the construction of a Railroad, giving to them corporate privileges, provided ten thousand dollars of stock for every mile of road proposed to be made is subscribed, and ten per centum paid thereon in cash. Companies created under the act to have power to borrow money not exceeding the amount of capital stock subscribed, and to issue bonds of the Company therefor to an amount not exceeding double the amount of subscriptions actually paid in, at a rate of interest not exceeding seven per cent. This restriction is deemed harsh and illiberal, and further legislation will probably be necessary to render the law effective.

—Gov. Geary, on Monday evening last, vetoed the so-called free Railroad bill.

SOLDIERS NATIONAL CONVENTION.—A Soldiers and Sailors' National Convention will be held in Chicago on the 19th of May next, the day before the sitting of the National Republican Convention in the same city, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for President and Vice President of the United States. At the Soldiers' State Convention, held in Philadelphia, on the 8th of January, General James S. Beaver, its President, was directed to appoint the delegates from this State, and they were instructed to vote for Grant and Curtin. The following is a list of the delegates at large, selected by General Beaver:

General J. F. Hartranft, General Charles H. T. Collis, General A. L. Pearson, General Harry White, General Lemuel Todd, and General Harrison Allen.

The delegates from this district are General J. P. Taylor, Colonel R. A. McCoy, and Captain Joseph A. Green.

The Vice Presidency.

It is very evident that Andrew G. Curtin is again to be denied justice by the leaders of the party he has so earnestly worked for and so faithfully adhered to. For United States Senator, two years ago, he was the choice of a very large majority of his party, but he was cheated and sold by Representatives, and defeated. Now he is before his party as its choice for Vice President of the United States, and again his enemies in every district in the State are at work to defeat him. The following from the Harrisburgh Daily State Guard will give the reader an idea of the "situation."

"THE VICE PRESIDENCY.—From what we have lately seen in leading Western papers, and heard from prominent men in the extreme East, we have little doubt that a combination is now being made, if it is not already completed, to throw the Republican nomination for the Vice Presidency in the Southwest. There is no one to dispute with the West the nomination for the Presidency, which nomination it is asserted by Western politicians, was not secured by any action of the men of that section. Grant's nomination for the Presidency is the result of a national demand, as much labored for by Eastern as by Western, Northern or Southern Republicans. Hence, say Western politicians, what so essentially conduces to the certainty of success, and what was demanded by the combined party as its only means of triumph dare not be ascribed to the credit of any section. Acting in this faith, the whole West and Southwest, leaving out Ohio, are unquestionably laboring for the nomination of Schuyler Colfax for Vice President. Mr. Wade's friends say he will not accept the nomination for the Vice Presidency, unless it is unanimously tendered to him. This is characteristic of the veteran Senator and incorruptible Republican. He is an unselfish man, and despises mere contests for place. His battle has always been for principle, for which he has labored longer and sacrificed more than any man in the country. But no civilian living can secure a unanimous nomination for the Vice Presidency. Hence, if Mr. Wade is firm in his resolve only to accept the nomination on its unanimous offer, he will not be the candidate.—Pennsylvania will have trouble in her delegation, and although it is the honest desire of the people of the State, that its vote in the Chicago Convention should be a unit for Curtin, the political tricksters and charlatans who have been enriched by prostituting the powers of the Republican party, will go to Chicago and disgrace the Keystone State by defying the will of its Republican majority. Outside of New York Fenton has no strength. The Eastern States, acting on an understanding with the West, will go in a body for Colfax. We have this fact from a gentleman who feels sure of the reliability of the statement he makes. The East and the West, combined, will make the Vice Presidential nomination. It is the determination of these sections not to allow Ohio, Pennsylvania or New York to control this honor and what will help the East and West, is the fact that either one of the three great States is ready to vote so as to not allow the other to secure this nomination. As a Pennsylvania, our choice is Curtin, first and last, but we are prepared to support the nomination of the Convention. In the meantime it is only fair that our readers should understand the moves now being made on the political chess-board. It is our duty, as a journalist, to publish facts which are calculated to enlighten our readers. The fact that the Republicans of the East and the West are combining to make the Vice Presidential nomination, is interesting now, and will be more interesting as the Chicago Convention approaches."

☞Fish breeding is bringing to light many interesting facts in their natural history. The hatching of fish eggs is said by experts in that business to be easier and more surer than the hatching of fowl's eggs. The whole expense of putting fifty million shad in the Connecticut river did not exceed fifty dollars. The eggs of shad put in water of suitable temperature, produce young fish in a few days. The salmon trout eggs require a longer incubation than those of most birds. Salmon require two months or more, under the most favorable circumstances. The New England Fish Commissioners are having great luck, in the hatching line, at the Charlestown Springs, in New Hampshire, where they deposited 40,000 eggs in October. They hatched on the 11th of December, just sixty-two days from the time they were taken from the parent fish. The eggs of the salmon trout, at these springs, were thirty-five days in hatching, which is said to be a very short time. The annual catch of shad in the Connecticut has dwindled to about 500,000. If 50,000,000 were turned into the river, as reported, shad ought to be plenty and very cheap next spring. For the salmon we shall have to wait longer. They are two years or more in coming to maturity.

☞About fifty Germans, of both sexes, from Bremen, passed through Washington on the 24th for Virginia. It is said that these are the pioneers of over ten thousand of such emigrants to be brought to Baltimore during this year, and thence to their new homes in the South.

☞President Johnson, it is said, has found one solace from the impeachment, and that is, since he was summoned to appear for trial the office seekers have ceased to annoy him.

☞Money is said to be "tighter" in New York just now than at any previous period for years.

☞The Mount Union Times has been revived by H. B. Jeffries, a practical printer. We wish it success.

General Hartranft.

The following notice of the General's Annual Report and of the General himself, we find in the Evening Herald, a Democratic paper published in Philadelphia. The General must be a No. 1 man to secure such a notice from a political opponent. The book we have also received, for which the General will accept our thanks. The Herald says:

"It gives us exceeding pleasure to recognize sterling merit, and especially when it is exhibited in a direction where it was not expected. We have received from General Hartranft, Auditor General of the State of Pennsylvania, his annual report of our canals and railroads for the year 1867, in a durable and handsome volume of five hundred and fifty pages. It is from the press of the State printers at Harrisburg, Messrs. Singerly and Meyers. General Hartranft has proven himself the possessor of signal ability, of great and comprehensive business capacity, and of far-reaching executive skill. His annual report met in the House of Representatives of the State with unlimited approval; it will take its place among the most valuable public documents of the day. Its contents are a handsome contribution to the financial literature of the era, including as they do the tabulated results and comparative statements of the business of all the railroads and canals within the limits of the Commonwealth. Its frontispiece comprises one of the most elaborate maps ever yet issued, and that is the crowning glory of every valuable report. The volume will be treasured by every statistician throughout the country, and will take its place as a standard work of reference. Gen. Hartranft has proven himself emphatically the right man in the right place. His renomination to the office he so ably fills, was with the assent and approbation of thousands of persons who appreciate his valuable services to the State, and who would rejoice to see him perpetuated in the position he has so ably filled. We congratulate the Republicans for having for once stumbled upon a gentleman of such sterling worth. Let them treasure him. They have few like him."

Official Report of Gen. Meade on the Alabama Election.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The Secretary of War sent to the House to-day, in compliance with a resolution of that body, the official report of Major-General Meade to General Grant, dated Atlanta, Ga., March 23d, giving the following analysis of the returns of the vote in Alabama at the election, submitting to the registered voters the constitution framed by the Convention of that State:—

Total vote cast for the constitution,	70,812
Total vote cast against,	1,005
Total vote cast at the election,	71,817
Votes cast by colored men,	62,194
Votes cast by white men,	6,702
Not separated,	2,921
Colored votes cast for the constitution,	62,089
Colored votes cast against,	105
White votes cast for the constitution,	5,802
White votes cast against,	900

Now the total vote at the election is 71,817, and deducting the vote in Sumter rejected, 1458, the actual vote cast at the election is 70,359, and the constitution fails of ratification by 8114, that is to say, the whole vote cast in these counties, where the election was held, falls short of one-half of the number reported voters in these counties by 8114, and the constitution, therefore, under the law requiring one-half the registered voters to cast their votes is not ratified.

"Acknowledging the importance of the State being at the earliest moment restored to her proper relations in the Union, I cannot but look on the result of the recent election as an expression of opinion that the registered voters no not desire to be restored under the constitution submitted to them, and in view of the recent acts of Congress to give the ratification to a majority of the votes cast, I would prefer seeing the convention reassembled for a revision of the constitution, and revised constitution submitted to the people under the new law. I am of the opinion that a revised coustitution more liberal in its terms, and confined to the requirements of the Reconstruction laws would, in Alabama, as I have occasion to expect it will in Georgia and Florida, meet with approval of a majority of the registered voters; and I beg leave to call your attention to the difficulty of carrying on a government in a State where so small a proportion of those qualified to take part in the government are in favor of the organic law, and to secure to a larger proportion of what must be the governing classes, a more acceptable constitution."

Will Mr. Johnson be Convicted?

The Pittsburgh Commercial of Mch. 26, says:

The votes taken in open session and in private consultation, as they have been reported by our special dispatches, possess a decided interest as bearing on the prospect of the President's conviction. Seven Republicans voting with the Democrats will acquit him, two-thirds of the Senate being necessary to convict. In the secret session of the 13th, on fixing the time when the President should be required to answer, there were three votes taken, varying somewhat, but not essentially in their bearing on the main question. The ayes were all Republicans; the nays were composed of all the Democrats and certain Republicans. One vote stood ayes 27, nays 20; another, ayes 28, nays 23. In the secret session of the Senate, on Monday, the proposition being to strike out April 2d, and insert March 30, as the day for proceeding with trial, the vote was, ayes 28, nays 23. On that occasion the following Republican Senators voted with the Democrats: Messrs. Anthony, Corbett, Edmunds, Fessenden, Frelinghuysem, Grimes, Henderson, Norton, Sherman, Sprague, Trumbell, and Van Winkle, in all twelve.—As a general thing these Senators have voted with the Democrats. Mr. Wade does not vote.

The HERALD's special from Vera Cruz dated March 19th, says: The press as well as the Judiciary, now denounces as unconstitutional the law against traitors, passed January 25th, 1862, under which Maximilian was tried and executed.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE IMPEACHMENT.

WASHINGTON, March 24.

The Court of impeachment commenced at one o'clock, when the Chief Justice took his seat, and the President's counsel, with the managers and the members of the House, also took seats.

Mr. Boutwell, one of the Managers, read the following replication, and a copy was ordered to be furnished to the counsel for the President.

The House of Representatives of the United States have considered the several answers of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, to the several articles of impeachment against him by them exhibited in the name of themselves and of all the people of the United States, and reserving to themselves all the advantage of exception to the insufficiency of the answer to each and all of the several articles of impeachment exhibited against the said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do deny each and every averment in said several answers, or either of them, which denies or traverses the acts, intents, crimes or misdemeanors charged against the said Andrew Johnson in said articles of impeachment, or either of them, and for replication to the said answer do say that the said Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, is guilty of the high crimes and misdemeanors mentioned in said articles, and that the House of Representatives are ready to prove the same.

The motion pending at the adjournment, made by the President's counsel, for time to prepare for trial came up.

Mr. Johnson moved to fix the time at ten days.

Mr. Sumner moved an amendment, to proceed with the trial from day to day, Sundays excepted.

At 3.25 p. m., the Senate reappeared having been out exactly two hours. Order having been restored, the Chief Justice said: "I am directed to inform the counsel that the Senate has agreed to an order in response to their application which will now be read:

Ordered, That the Senate will commence the trial of the President upon the articles of impeachment exhibited against him on Monday, the 30th day of March, inst., and proceed therein with all dispatch under the rules of the Senate bearing upon the trial of an impeachment. After a momentary pause the Chief Justice asked, have the counsel for the President anything to propose? The counsel bowed in acquiescence to the decision.

Mr. Butler of the managers—"If the chair will allow me, I will give notice to the witnesses to appear here on Monday, the 30th inst., at 12½ o'clock.

On motion of Senator Wilson, the court was then adjourned till the date named above, at half past twelve o'clock, and the Chief Justice vacated the chair, which was immediately resumed by the President pro tem., Mr. Wade, who called the Senate to order.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, '68.

Impeachment To-day.

There are many rumors of an attempt on the part of the President's counsel to interpose objections to-morrow on coming into court which will delay the anticipated order of proceedings as agreed upon by the managers, but nothing of a definite character has been ascertained by them and they now expect that Gen. Butler will open the case on the part of the House as soon as the court is called to order. This speech will occupy from three to five hours, according as Butler may decide.

It is nearly useless to come with the intention of seeing the court in session without arranging with the Senators in advance by telegraph or letter. General Butler, since the duty of opening the case was assigned to him, has kept himself close in his private office, and employed some half dozen copyists and messengers to search for necessary books and documents for reference. In case he concludes in time to-morrow, Judge Bingham intends to offer the first of the testimony for the prosecution, which will be documentary.

Order of Evidence.

First in order, whenever the managers do proceed, will be the oath of office, taken by Andrew Johnson on the 15th of April, 1865, and certified by the Chief Justice, to support and defend the Constitution and laws; next President Lincoln's nomination of Stanton as Secretary of War, and the official journal of the Senate's action thereon, the injunction of secrecy having been removed by the Senate that the managers might obtain it; then the tenure of office law; next Johnson's suspension of Stanton under it; next the non-concurrence of the Senate in the removal given by Johnson, and to complete the list under this head, his removal of Stanton and appointment of Thomas.

Hancock's Assignment.

The order assigning Gen. Hancock to command the Division of the Atlantic, will be promulgated to the army through Grant's headquarters to-morrow. The Division so constituted, will consist of the department of each as it existed under General Meade, with headquarters at Philadelphia, and the Department of Washington added to it. The headquarters will probably be at Philadelphia.

NEW MACHINE FOR PEGGING SHOES.—A hand pegging machine was exhibited in Springfield recently, which, it is stated, is really a valuable invention. The shoe to be pegged is lasted and the sole fastened on to the upper leather in the same way as in pegging by hand. The machine is self-feeding and as it moves it cuts the peg from a wooden "ribbon," punches the hole and drives the peg to its place, all in an instant, and closes its work perfectly. An experienced workman can peg two rows on a No. 9 heavy brogan in one minute. The machine works equally well on heavy and fine work, and good judges who saw its operation pronounced it capable of doing all it claims to do. The price is within the means of country shoemakers, and will be a great saving of work for them.

The Union Pacific Railroad Board of Directors made the location of the Council Bluffs Union Pacific Railroad bridge across the Missouri river at Train's Table, Thursday. The action is final. Council Bluff's secures the passenger and freight transfers and depot buildings within her corporate limits. Her citizens are jubilant over the event.

GENERAL NEWS.

It is reported that lodges of the Kuklux Klan, have been formed in New York, and New Jersey.

Western dispatches state that the heaviest snow storm ever known in Southern Colorado and New Mexico fell there recently.

Western papers state and profess to believe that the bloodiest Indian war on record will be commenced about the middle of April.

A telegram from Arkansas announced that the Constitution was defeated by a deficit of at least seven thousand votes.

It is quite probable that the United States Supreme Court will restore Mr. Bradley, Sr., to the bar.

Florida's new Constitution is denounced as anti-republican in form by the Reconstruction Committee.

The Congress of Nicaragua has ratified the Dickinson-Ayou treaty between that country and the United States.

Sergeant Bates, who is pedestrianizing from New Orleans to Washington, carrying the American flag, has reached Columbia, S. C., and expects to reach the capital April 14.

The large axe pole manufactory of Blake & Co., at Scranton, Pennsylvania, was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Loss $30,000; insured for $16,000.

The Masonic Asylum Trustees have purchased the Presbyterian Church corner of Grand and Crosby streets, New York, for one hundred and three thousand dollars, and will turn it into an Orphan Asylum.

The large storage and commission house of H. L. Messenger & Co., of Warsaw, Illinois, was burned Tuesday night. The fire originated in the engine room. Loss about thirty thousand dollars. There was nothing saved. There was but small insurance.

The Scituate Bank (R. I.) was robbed on Tuesday night of $20,000. About 3 o'clock the house of the cashier was entered and himself and family bound and gagged. The keys were taken, but the robbers failing to get into the vault, they returned, placed a rope around the cashier's neck, and forced him to open it. The thieves escaped.

It is stated in the State Department that General Banks and Secretary Seward on Tuesday last wrote to Baron Stoekel, the Russian Minister, asking for an extension of the time of the treaty with Russia for the purchase of Alaska. They give for a reason that, on account of the impeachment trial, it is impossible to transact any business of great importance in the House, and therefore an extension of time is necessary for the fulfillment of the treaty. It is said the Russian Government is ready to grant the extension of the time asked for.

THE Model Farm in Chester county, will be ready for operation as soon as the weather permits. J. Lacy Darlington has been chosen President, and in a letter recently published, he says the farm is already stocked and equipped; the programme of experiments for the current year laid out, and with the opening of the spring, operations will commence. The great objects of this Experimental Farm are well understood. Many of the unsettled questions in practical agriculture will be solved by accurate experiment, such as the cultivation of cereal and root crops; the growing of fruits; the best methods of feeding cattle; the comparative values of manures, and the proper mode of applying them; the most desirable of breeds of cattle, sheep and swine; the latest improved implements, &c. Managed, as we have every reason to believe this experimental farm will be, it must become a point of immense interest and importance to the practical farmers throughout the State, and for this reason it has strong claims upon their cordial and active co-operation. We hope it may prove what it deserves and promises to become a —a decided success.

—Mr. Darlington is one of the ablest chemists and practical agriculturalists in the country, under whose management this institution will unquestionably flourish and prove a vast benefit to farmers. Indeed it would be well for the interest at stake if all the farms of this class were put under the control of such men as J. Lacy Darlington.—State Guard.

HOUSE ENTERED BY AN ARMY OF RATS.—A couple of nights ago a small army of rats, seemingly met together by concert, created no small sensation in the house of a poor woman on Elizabeth street, by a very singular proceeding. The woman was lying in bed aslep with her two little ones, when she was aroused by the screams of the children. On awaking she was horrified to find the bed fairly covered with rats, while the floor of the room was almost black with them. Her children at her side were screaming wildly, not alone through terror, but through pain also, for the vermin seized them by the nose, ears and cheeks, and were rapidly settling themselves down on every part of their faces. Of course, with a mother's instinct, the woman immediately rescued her children, while the rats scampered off in all directions and quickly disappeared.

The faces of the children were cut and bleeding several places, and the wounds of the nose of one of them were considered so serious that Dr. Lawler was called in, and in his hands the little ones have been well cared for, and are now doing well. It is supposed that the invasion was caused by the heavy rains that prevailed at the time, which flooding the drains and other places in which the rats made their homes, drove them out and forced them to seek food and shelter elsewhere. Had the children been alone they would certainly have been eaten alive, the rats were around them in hundreds, and would shortly have attacked their throats, when death would have resulted in a very few minutes—Toronto Telegraph, March 9.

TO THE AFFLICTED! AN ARTICLE OF REAL MERIT! FOSTER'S ORIENTAL BITTERS, A Remedy that has been tried and stood the test, not only in an occasional case, but in every community where used it has been pronounced the safest and most reliable remedy known for DYSPEPSIA, LOSS OF APPETITE, WEAKNESS, GENERAL DEBILITY, PAIN OR CRAMP IN THE STOMACH OR BOWELS, CHOLERA MORBUS, HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, INTERMITTENT, OR CHILLS AND FEVER, LIVER TONIC, AND FOR ALL FEMALE DISEASES. As an agreeable and safe remedy and an Invigorating Beverage it has no equal. This valuable Bitters is composed of the essential properties of roots—the medicinal qualities of which have been carefully extracted. It is agreeable to the taste and does not leave that unpleasant taste in the mouth for hours after, that most medicines do. As a Blood Purifier and Liver Tonic it has no equal.—It contains no calomel or other injurious drug, but is purely vegetable. For Dyspepsia it cannot be excelled. It contains nothing injurious to the stomach, is mild and prompt in its action and effects a permanent cure by removing the cause of the complaint. For Intermittent Fever or Chills and Fever this Bitters is a specific far better and surer than quinine. No family should be without it as the cost is trifling compared with the suffering that may be avoided by having it at hand in case of sudden attack. Weakly Persons use the Oriental Bitters, Invalids use the Oriental Bitters. Dyspeptics use the Oriental Bitters, Females use the Oriental Bitters. TRY IT AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELF, Prepared only by BUCHANAN & SMITH, HUNTINGDON, PA., To whom all orders should be addressed. The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, April 1, 1868.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Brief Items.

—To-morrow, Wednesday, is All-Fools day. Look out for "sells."

—A new stock of spectacles just received at Lewis' Book Store.

—Fresh Garden and Flower Seeds for sale at Lewis' Book Store. tf.

—For the greatest variety of new styles of Wall Paper, go to Lewis' Book Store. tf.

—In demand: brick, lumber, money, and a few men with capital to "squat" a business to encourage consumers.

—We understand that the Methodist congregation intend erecting a chapel in West Huntingdon this year.

—April Court will be a big affair.—We expect the town will be crowded to overflowing. Our friends will find us "at home."

—Don't forget the borough election on Monday next. One Burgess, three Councilmen, and a High Constable will be to elect.

—Juniata county is to vote for or against the removal of the county-seat from Mifflintown to Perryville, on the 13th day of October next.

—Shad in market, but a little too "fat" for printers and other poor people. A whole year's subscription for one dinner! Just think of it.

—Happy is the man who in these "flitting" days has a house of his own. We advise the disconsolate ones to peruse a local in another column.

—The largest and most handsome stock of new styles of Wall Paper ever received in Huntingdon, for sale at Lewis' Book Store. Call and see.

—We heard a farmer say last week that his cows were all dry, but he had plenty of butter. How's that? Some neighbor's spring house must suffer.

—Flitting is the order of the day this week, and a general cleaning and fixing up will follow when the women folks will be "at home"—with cold dinners.

—The Johnstown school district has 11 schools, 12 teachers, 488 male scholars, and 507 female scholars. Number of months taught, 4; teachers wages $2,080.

—On Saturday, Mrs. Mary Long, widow of Paul Long, died suddenly in the house of Charles Moore, near Hollidaysburg. She caused her death by the use of whiskey.

—Subscriptions to the Globe will be received at any time, through the mail or otherwise. Terms, $2.00 a year.—Persons changing their place of residence will please notify us.

—The revenue of Johnstown borough from March 1st, 1867, to February 29th, 1868, inclusive, was $19,853.38; expenditures for the same period $19,407 14. The debt is $30,020.

—Persons who have not been in West Huntingdon for several months would hardly know the place now if they should "drop down" some fine day when the builders are in motion.

—Among a flock of sheep kept by Jonathan S. Zook, of Union township, Mifflin county, is a ewe which has had six lambs within one year, five of which were raised. The young were black.

—The largest stock, and largest number of new and beautiful styles of Wall Paper ever received in Huntingdon can be seen at Lewis' Book Store. All in want of Wall Paper and Window Shades should go and examine his stock. tf.

—Any person elected to the office of Justice of the Peace should remember that, if he desires to accept said office, he must give notice thereof, in writing, to the Prothonotary, within thirty days after the election.

—While we can commend the enterprise of the laboring men in building homes for themselves, we are sorry that our men of capital do not promote progress by opening up manufactures and affording means of support to men of industry. Let our business men think of this.

—An indignation meeting was held in Johnstown on Thursday evening against a bill which was before the Legislature "having for its object the relieving of railroad companies and common-carriers, of liabilities for personal injuries that may be sustained by passengers or others, by the neglect or carelessness of all railroad companies or their agents."

—James A. Doyle, of Shirleysburg, had his left arm dislocated at the shoulder on the 12th inst. The scaffolding on which he was working gave way, precipitating him about eighteen feet. In his fall he caught a lath, which threw his shoulder out of place The dislocation was reduced in about twenty minutes after it happened, and he is now doing well.—Herald.

—There is a stage driver in Pike county, Penna., named David Starner, who has driven stage for the last forty years, averaging 30 miles per day. Deducting the Sundays from forty years, leaves 12,520 working days, which at 30 miles a day makes a total of 375,600, equivalent to fifteen times the distance round the world, and 600 miles over. He is now sixty years of age, and is hale and hearty.

A Neglected Duty.

There is nothing more ungenerous, unkind, or mean, than the indisposition so frequently manifested by persons in good circumstances, to pay their small bills to tradesmen and others. If these people could, for a moment, be made to realize the amount of suffering frequently caused by their heartless conduct, in times such as those through which we are now passing, there would be fewer instances of it. If this paragraph meets the eye of any who owes small amounts to working men or women, and has the means to pay them, the hope is indulged that he or she will make it a point of conscience not to sleep until his or her duty in this particular is discharged.

Impeachment.

By the authority vested in us as monarchs of our Sanctum, we hereby impeach all persons who fail to purchase their goods at the Mammoth Store of Henry & Co., out of their new and well selected stock purchased at the late decline. 1t

A Good Local for Huntingdon.

We find the following in an exchange. It is just to the point for renters in this place. Read it renters and paste the article in your hat where you will see it often; and if you are an industrious man buy a lot and commence to help yourself and family:

BAD POLICY TO PAY RENT.—We do not mean if you agree to; but bad policy to agree to do so.

Any man who is able to pay rent, can build a house. This will strike you as a bold proposition and hard to believe, but let us reason together. It is hardly our interest to discourage renting houses, but we will waive interest and go for principal.

First, you say you have no lot.—Lease one then; or buy on lot time.—You have no lumber or material. You are paying one hundred or two hundred dollars for rent. When you pay it, it is gone, and at the end of two or three years you have paid out enough to build a house and are still a renter. All you need is to anticipate these payments—say for a year, borrow out of a bank or otherwise, and give your rising building as security for enough to buy the lumber; put a frame for three or four rooms; plaster one in the fall, and instead of paying monthly rents, finish the rooms one by one, as you are able, and in two or three years you can have a home paid for, and you can begin to pay for your leased lot and own it yourself.

You are afraid of mortgages, you say. Why they are the poor man's friend. They are the life-boats in the wreck for the man in debt. They build all our railroads and great internal improvements. They are harmless if you understand them and are a good financier. They are foreclosed sometimes, but then you have a year to redeem. They will not generally be foreclosed if you pay the interest promptly, which you can do easier than to pay the rent. If you are sharp, you can play with them like Driesbach with the lions and they won't bite.—Moreover, robbing Peter to pay Paul is not robbery, if Peter is willing, and will lend you the money on a new mortgage to pay the old one; and there are always Peters who live by doing this kind of busines.

The process of knocking an old mortgage on the head whenever it grows ugly and threatens violence, is a familiar one to all good financiers.

Use your wits. Work with your head, and you will not have to work so much with your hands.

The richest men in the world are those who commenced on nothing, and have lifted themselves up by the straps of their boots.

But here a nice young man answers that his richer associates and friends will snub him if he lives in that style. Here is the great error of young men. They wish to commence life in as elegant style as their fathers lived in; after a quarter of a century's hard work. It is the great error of the age—the prolific source of celibacy and bachelorhood, and operates as a fraud upon good-looking girls, who are cheated out of husbands by such foolishness.

Respect yourself—act independently—take a longer look at things—snub the snobbers and make them sick of it—and in five years you will be bowed to and courted by the same men.—The good will of such men is purchased at too dear a price. It is not worth having.

You are a coward. You are willing to sell your home and your independence for such weak and unmanly sentimentalism. Dare to follow your own line of policy if it is honest and for your interest to do so—and not allow weak and snobbish pride to consign you to hard labor for life as the tenant an vassal of your landlord.

By following this advice the thousands of dollars you will give away for rent in ten years having nothing to show for, will give you a home of comfort and elegance, with a wife and family, and all the influence of your respected citizen." "This is the way, walk ye in it." It leads to independance, respectability and honor.

Who Pays for the Stamp?

This is a question which comes up before the parties concerned in nearly every transfer of the title to real estate, but many escape difficulty by stipulating in the condition of sale whether the buyer or seller shall pay the stamp duty. The Village Record, of West Chester, has been prompted by a correspondent to look the matter up, and after consulting a lawyer and two real estate agents, it has given their opinions. The lawyer says that the seller pays for the stamps unless there is an agreement to the contrary. One of the conveyancers consulted says: "The universal practice is that the purchaser pays for the deed. The seller furnishes the stamps unless there is a special agreement to the contrary." The other conveyancer gives the following definition of the law and the practice: "In nine cases out of ten the purchaser pays for the stamps—that is the practice; but the practice is not the law.—The practice in Chester county has been that the purchaser pays for the deed, but after the stamp law was enacted, the deed by virtue of the cost of stamps became a matter of consequence, litigations arose, and the Supreme Court decided that the seller was bound to make a deed, and as a deed without stamps was worthless, the seller was bound to furnish them."

Early Tomatoes.

To have tomatoes early plant a few seeds any time this month in the pots in which the plants are growing in the kitchen window. They will soon germinate and grow very rapidly, and when the plants are two inches high, set one of each in boxes three inches square, or very small flower pots, and give them the same attention the house plants get. As soon as all danger from frost is over, transfer the tomato plants, which will now be budded and perhaps covered with miniature fruit, to the south side of a high fence or sunny side of a building, into not over rich soil, and you will have ripe tomatoes on the 4th of July, and your don't miss of it, and if past experience and a favorable season are worth anything.

☞ Dr. Witmer, of Philadelphia, will be at the Franklin House, Huntingdon, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 13th, 14th and 15th April, (Court week,) to consult with the sick and afflicted of all diseases, and furnish medicines for their cure without fail. See advertisement in another column. 2t

Arrested by Means of the Telegraph.

Yesterday morning a telegram was received at the Mayor's office directed to the chief of police of Harrisburg, stating that an Irish woman had got on the cars at Tyrone bound for New York or Philadelphia, and after giving an accurate description of the woman, the sender, Mr. W. M. Holmes, requested her to be arrested at the station for theft and word to be sent back to Milesburg, Centre county. At noon officer Cline went down to the depot and jumping on the train from the West very readily discovered the woman.

"Where are you from, Madam?" said he.

"From Williamsport, sir," she replied.

"I guess you are mistaken; you got on this train at Tyrone, and are going to Philadelphia with something that don't belong to you. I want you to go along with me."

The woman picked up her carpet bag, a very large plethoric one, and followed the officer to the Mayor's office. She answered the description exactly, so without more ado the contents of her carpet bag were examined and revealed two fine black silk dresses, one handsomely trimmed poplin dress and a large blanket shawl.—When the articles were produced the woman, who gave her name as Anna Kelley, confessed that she had taken them from the house of Mr. Gregg, in Milesburg, with whose family she had been living for some time past. After stating that she had no other stolen articles in her possession, the Mayor committed her to prison to await the action of the authorities in Milesburg, to whom His Honor immediately telegraphed the fact of the woman's arrest and commitment.—State Guard, Mch. 27th.

Meeting of the Bar.

A meeting of the members of the Huntingdon County Bar, was held at the office of J. G. Miles, Esq., on Friday, the 27th of March, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to pay the usual marks of respect to the memory of JOHN REED, Esq., their late fellow member, who died at the residence of his son near Huntingdon, on Thursday morning, the 26th inst.

On motion, J. G. Miles, Esq., was elected President; and John M. Bailey, Secretary of the meeting.

John Scott, Esq., offered the following resolutions as expressive of the feelings of the meeting, which were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, God in his wise Providence having called from our midst, John Reed, an aged and honored member of the Bar, we his surviving associates have met together to pay a tribute to his memory and express our feelings at this sad event, and in expression of them do

Resolve, That our departed brother in the legal profession has left behind him the savour of an upright life, having in his relations as a public officer, and as a member of the Bar always manifested the highest integrity and discharged every duty with ability and the strictest fidelity, and in his life as a citizen exemplified the doctrines of the religion he professed. He was a good man and his memory will be cherished.

Resolved, That we will attend his funeral and wear the customary badge of mourning.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished his family and published in the county papers.

Adjourned.

Simple Remedy for Burns.

Nothing on the face of the earth equals cool water as a remedy for burns. No application with which we are acquainted gives such immediate relief. The burned portion of the body should be soaked for a number of hours in the fluid We have known persons whose hands have been severely burned, to place them in a basin of water at the side of the bed, and go to sleep, allowing the hands to remain therein all night. In the morning they were entirely cured. Our experience with other agents, as turpentine, oils, and poultices, have always been unsatisfactory—the remedies only serving to increase the pain.

How to Cook Shad.

The fresh shad season is near at hand; in order that our lady readers may be enabled to do ample justice to this excellent fish, we publish the following method of boiling their finny victims:—Clean the shad, wash and wipe it, flour it well, wrap it in a cloth and place it in a large vessel of boiling water with a great deal of salt. It will require about twenty minutes to cook it. Serve it up with egg sauce or rich drawn butter. This most excellent fish is said to be very palatable when dressed in the manner stated.

Speer's Wines

Are the pure juice of the grape, and are unexcelled by any native vintage. They contain valuable medicinal properties, and are of intrinsic worth to the invalid and the convalescent, strengthening the weak, and restoring the system to tone and vigor. Sickly persons and females should try them.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE REASON why MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS cures so many different diseases, is because it is the best remedy for a deranged stomach, or Dyspepsia, now known, and because it invigorates the entire system, strengthens the nervous fibres, elevates the standard of all the vital forces, and sustains a most healthful tone of the entire human organism. Medicine that will do this, will cure any disease, for the simple reason, that nature will do the rest.

We guarantee, that no woman or child, however pale or emaciated, can use these Bitters regularly for twenty-one days, without the return of the rosy cheeks and fair complexion characteristic of good health.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY

BY

DR. WILLIAM BREWSTER,

M'CONNELLSTOWN, PA.

For the benefit of those proposing to undertake Electrical treatment for diseases we give in the following list a few of the more prominent and most common complaints met with in our practice, in all of which we are most successful. IN NEARLY ALL CASES OF CHRONIC DISEASE, ELECTRICITY IS A SURE REMEDY, AND IN ALL CASES BENEFICIAL, IF PROPERLY APPLIED. Those, therefore, afflicted with complaints not here enumerated, need have no hesitation in applying, and whether only RELIEF, or a PERMANENT CURE can be effected, they will receive replies accordingly. All communications free.

1 Epilepsy, Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Nervousness, Palpitation of the Heart, Lock-Jaw, etc.
2 Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Obstinate Constipation, Hemorrhoids, or Piles, Bilious, Flatulent, and Painter's Colic, and all affections of the Liver and Spleen.
3 Catarrh, Cough, Influenza, Asthma, (where not caused by organic disease of the heart,) Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Rheumatism of the Chest, Consumption in the early stages.
4 Gravel, Diabetis, and Kidney Complaints.
5 Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Stiff Neck, Spinal Diseases, Hip Diseases, Cancers, Tumors; (these last named always cured without pain, or cutting, or plasters in any form)

In a word, we propose to cure all curable diseases.

We have no connection whatever with any other Electrical office in this or any other county.

No more Bald Heads! No more Gray Locks!

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and speedily restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

Sold by Druggists throughout the United States. Address all orders to SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE!

Excellent for Females and Weakly Persons.

Used by hundreds of Congregations for Church or Communion purposes.

VINEYARDS—Los Angelos, California, and Passaic, New Jersey.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE, Four Years Old. This justly celebrated native Wine is made from the juice of the Oporto Grapo raised in this country. Its invaluable Tonic and Strengthening Properties are unsurpassed by any other native wine. Being the pure juice of the grape produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid may use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that afflict the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Invalids use Speer's Port Grape Wine; Females Use Speer's Port Grape Wine; Weakly Persons Find a Benefit by its Use; Speer's Wines in Hospitals are preferred to other Wines.

Principal Office, A. SPEER,

No. 243 BROADWAY, opposite City Hall Park, N. Y.

Sold by John Reed, and Samuel Smith, Druggists, Huntingdon. se18

628. HOOP SKIRTS. 628.

WM. T. HOPKIN'S "OWN MAKE"

are the best and CHEAPEST Low PRICED Hoop Skirts in the market. Trail skirts, 25 springs, $1.00; 30 springs, $1.20; and 40 springs, $1.45. Plain Skirts, 6 tapes, 20 springs, 80 Cents; 25 springs, 95 Cents; 30 springs, $1.15; and 35 springs, $1.25. Warranted in every respect.

"Our OWN Make" of "UNION SKIRTS," eleven Tape Trails, from 20 to 50 springs, $1.20 to $2.50. Plain Six Tapes, 20 to 50 springs, from 95 Cents to $2.00. These Skirts are better than those sold by other establishments as first class goods and at much lower prices.

"Our OWN Make" of "CHAMPION SKIRTS" are in every way superior to all other Hoop Skirts before the public, and only have to be examined or worn to convince every one of the fact. Manufactured of the best linen-finished English Steel Springs, very superior tapes, and the style of the metallic fastenings and manner of securing them surpass for durability and excellence any other skirt in this country, and are lighter, more elastic, will wear longer, give more satisfaction, and are really cheaper than all others. Every lady should try them.—They are being sold extensively by merchants throughout this and the adjoining States at very moderate prices. If you want the best, ask for "Hopkin's Champion Skirt." If you do not find them, get the merchant with whom you deal to order them for you, or come or send direct to us. Merchants will find our different grades of Skirts exactly what they need, and we especially invite them to call and examine our extensive assortment, or send for Wholesale Price List.

To be had at Retail at Manufactory, and of the Retail Trade generally, and at Wholesale of the Manufacturer only, to whom all orders should be addressed.

SOLDIERS' HEIRS, ATTENTION!

The act of Congress approved March 2, 1867, gives to Heirs of Soldiers who died prisoners of war, for the time the soldier was so held a prisoner, at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, to be paid in the following order: 1st. To the widow, if unmarried; 2d. To the children; 3d. To the parents, to both jointly if they are living, if either is dead, to the survivor; 4th. To the brothers and sisters.

COMMUTATION FOR RATIONS,

The act of February 28, 1867, provides for the refunding of the $300 Commutation Money, where the same person was again drafted, and was required to enter the service or furnish a substitute.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.

The act of March 2, 1867, also makes provisions for the payment of the

to such soldiers as have accidentally lost their discharges

All persons having any claims under any of the above mentioned Acts, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, can have them promptly collected, by addressing the undersigned. Information and advice cheerfully given to soldiers or their friends, free of charge.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.
